ARF PUBLICATION POLICY REGARDING U.S. INDIGENOUS MATERIALS

The Archaeological Research Facility is in the process of reviewing its publication policy with respect to archaeological and ethnographic texts and images that describe belongings, artifacts, and cultural knowledge of Native Americans tribes and non-federally recognized tribal groups in the United States. The policy will request that researchers publishing with the ARF acquire a written endorsement or consent from a tribal representative, such as the Tribal Historic Preservation Officer, supporting the dissemination of the publication.

The current policy is a work in progress. Please refer back to this document for further updates.
